Community Shares Adds City of Dublin to Workplace Campaigns

Columbus, OH – Community Shares of Mid Ohio (CoSMO) has recently been added as a giving option at the City of Dublin. The city has expanded its annual fall charity drive to include Community Shares and its member agencies.

Tom Tootle, CoSMO board president, stated, "As someone who grew up in and who currently lives in this community, I am delighted that the City of Dublin would encourage its employees to participate in a program as deserving as Community Shares."

The establishment of a CoSMO workplace charity campaign will give employees the opportunity to make donations to 50 local community-based, volunteer-led charities preventing family, school, and neighborhood violence, homelessness, child abuse, hunger, and environmental pollution; protecting human and civil rights; increasing health, education, safety, and social justice.

The workplace giving campaigns for the City of Dublin occurs in October.

"We are incredibly grateful to these employers for including Community Shares. In these tough economic times, it is more critical and important than ever that employers and nonprofits work in partnership to ensure that vital programs and services are available to the community, especially for children. Times are challenging for schools and governments and we need nonprofits to fill the service gap and address a myriad of issues, particularly hunger, homelessness, and literacy," said CoSMO Executive Director Melissa Magers.

With 15 years of success in workplace fundraising, Community Shares of Mid Ohio assists local area non-profits in new options to receive donations. Through workplace fundraising drives done in public and private sector workplaces, employees are given the opportunity to donate directly to the non-profit agencies they care about most through payroll contributions.
